

The Best of British

A celebration of British Gun Making

- A glimpse at guns masterfully and rarely seen
- Examples from the leading British gunmakers: David MacKay Brown, Purdey, Holland & Holland, Boss, Greener, Peter Nelson, Westley Richards, William Powell, David Sinnerton
- An exquisite presentation documents the renaissance of quality sporting guns and the revival of the gunmakers who craft them

Internationally renowned photographer David Grant has photographed the best examples of contemporary British gunmaking, along with choice historical examples. Vic Venters provides detailed captions describing the guns and the craftsmen who built them. An appendix provides history and background on the various gunmakers and companies including contact information.

David Grant studied photography at Lanchester College. He has been commissioned to photograph guns for leading companies and he has also written reviews on guns for Shooting Times and The Shooting Gazette in the UK and Shooting Sportsman in the US.

Vic Venters is a lifelong shooter who attended London University. He lives in North Carolina. He is Senior Editor for Shooting Sportsman.
